RELIABLE BULBS AND ROOTS

FOR FORCING AND OUTDOOR PLANTING

All bulbs sent out by us are true to name, of the largest size, and selected only from those sorts which are the cream of the Holland market.

Therefore, they should not be confounded with the small-sized, low-priced mixtures usually sold.

HYACINTHS

Early French Roman Hyacinths

White Roman Hyacinths are extensively grown for forcing purposes. The flowers are pure white, delightfully fragrant, and each bulb will throw up from three to four spikes. For forcing, three or four bulbs are generally planted in a pot, in good soil. The pots should be kept in a cool dark place until they fill with roots. They are very easily grown and by making successive plantings may be had in flower all through the Winter.

Cultural Directions for Growing in Pots. Select heavy bulbs and plant as early as possible, using a six-inch pot for a single bulb. Fill the pots with light, rich potting soil, leaving the top of the bulb just above the surface; give a good watering and set away in a cool place, covering them with about five inches of sand or ashes. In about six weeks they may be taken to the room in which they are to flower. By bringing in a few pots about two weeks apart a succession of bloom may be had during Winter.

Cultural Directions for Planting in the Open Ground. October and November is the proper time, but they can be set out any time as long as the ground remains open. The beds should be well dug to a depth of about 14 inches, and raised from two to four inches above the level of the walks. The bulbs should be planted evenly about six inches deep, and from five to six inches apart. Care must be taken to press the earth firmly around the bulbs, setting each bulb in a handful of sand, to insure drainage.

Cultural Directions for Growing in Glasses. Single Hyacinths do best in glasses, as they produce a much larger spike. Place the bulb in a glass, which should be filled with water so it touches the bottom of the bulb; then put away in a cool place, or on a shelf in the dark part of the cellar, for from six to eight weeks, changing the water every two weeks; then remove them to the light, and place in a cool room with even temperature and they will produce very fine spikes and remain in bloom a long time. A small piece of charcoal in the water is beneficial.

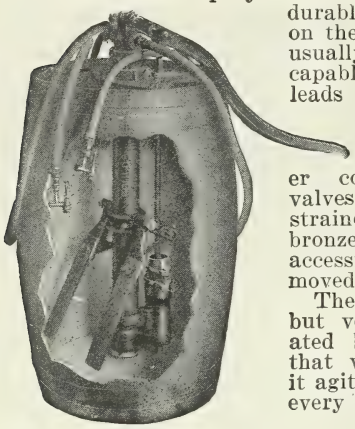
"POMONA" BARREL SPRAY PUMP



The "Pomona" Sprayer is recognized as the most durable Barrel Sprayer on the market. It is unusually powerful, fully capable of supplying four leads of hose and eight nozzles. The working parts, including the plunger, plunger connections, glands, valves, valve seat, and strainers, are of solid bronze. They are simple, accessible and easily removed.

The agitator is simple but very effective, operated by the same lever that works the sprayer; it agitates the liquid with every stroke.

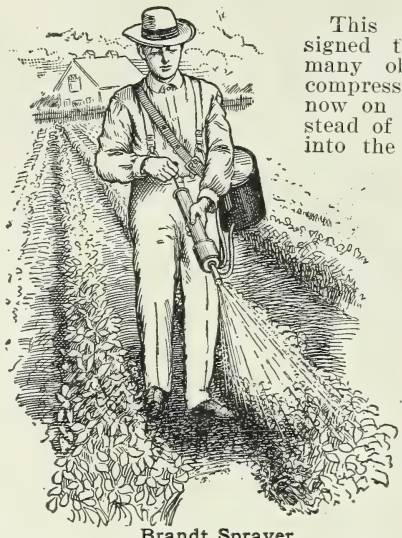
THE BRANDT SPRAYER

A NEW DISCOVERY

The most important detail of the NEW BRANDT SPRAYER is the device for pumping the air into the tank while walking, a feature just discovered and is found in no other sprayer.



Brandt Sprayer

This sprayer is designed to overcome the many objections to the compressed air sprayers now on the market. Instead of pumping the air into the reservoir before starting to spray this sprayer is fitted with a pump which can be worked while you walk, thus controlling the pressure at will. Can be used for one or two rows, and will spray from 15 to 25 hills of Potatoes with each stroke of the pump. Reservoir holds three gallons of liquid, enough to spray a row a mile long, with only one filling. The nozzles are made on a new principle and work with a combination of liquid and air which produces more force with 7 lbs. of pressure than others do with 100 lbs., giving a fine mist-like spray which is sent out with such force that clogging is impossible.
